BLUESTAR SILICONES ANNOUNCES U.S. DISTRIBUTORS FOR MOLDMAKING AND AEROSPACE APPLICATIONS

EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (February 18, 2015) – Bluestar Silicones announces it has named Freeman Manufacturing and Hisco Inc. as its two authorized national U.S. distributors for the company's moldmaking and aerospace silicone product lines.

"We are excited by the experience and service focus these two distributors bring to our moldmaking and aerospace customer base in the U.S. marketplace," said Reeshemah Chatham, market manager for Moldmaking and Sealing & Bonding markets in North America.

"Both Freeman and Hisco embrace and emulate our Bluestar Silicones model of providing service with a personal touch," continued Ms. Chatham. "We are confident that these two distributors can offer our customers the highest service levels and technical competencies in the industry. We are proud to partner with them."

Freeman Manufacturing & Supply Co. (www.freemansupply.com) is headquartered in Avon, OH, and has 12 branch locations across North America. Hisco Inc. (www.hisco.com) is headquartered in Houston, Texas, and has over 25 branch locations throughout North America.

Bluestar Silicones offers a full range of silicone solutions for the moldmaking and special effects markets. The company recently launched a website dedicated to moldmaking at www.bluesilmoldmaking.com. For more information, call Bluestar Silicones at (866) 474-6342.
